

How tall is the tree?

With your back to the tree, bend over and look between your legs.

If you can't see the top of the tree, walk further away and do it again.

When you can see the top of the tree from between your legs, the distance from you to the tree is the same as the height of the tree. Put down a marker.

Measure the distance in paces from the marker to the tree.

